Thanks to all who made it possible to serve spaghetti (Well, as one little boy corrected us..."it's actually not spaghetti, it's rigatoni") with meatballs, tossed salad, Italian bread with butter and of course platters of love - cupcakes galore, cookies of every color and shape and a variety of brownies. We wish we could capture the joy these dinners and desserts bring to these families - it makes our hearts smile. We were thrilled to have some young ones join us for the first time to serve these families - Jackson, Zachary, Andrea and Maria. We served nearly 190 moms, dads, children, teens and grandmothers (yes, grandmothers). We don't know their stories, but we do know each family has a story. For one night they definitely knew someone cared - you cared. Thank you!

What is Conscience?

In Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship (no. 17), the Catholic Bishops of the United States Conscience remind us:

"The Church equips its members to address political and social questions by helping them to develop a well-formed conscience. ... Conscience is not something that allows us to justify doing whatever we want, nor is it a mere "feeling" about what we should or should not do. Rather, conscience is the voice of God resounding in the human heart, revealing the truth to us and calling us to do what is good while shunning what is evil."

Conscience is a judgment of practical reason that helps us to recognize and seek what is good, and to reject what is evil (Catechism of the Catholic Church, no. 1778, 1796).

The Second Vatican Council wrote:

"Always summoning [one] to love good and avoid evil, the voice of conscience can when necessary speak to [one's] heart more specifically: do this, shun that" (Gaudium et Spes 16).

Conscience does not simply "come to us"! Throughout our lives, we have to spend time forming our consciences so that we can make well-reasoned judgments about particular situations.

How Do I Form My Conscience?

As the bishops note in Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, we need to form our consciences in an ongoing manner. How do we do this?

- 1) When examining any issue or situation, we must begin by being open to the truth and what is right.
- 2) We must study Sacred Scripture and the teaching of the Church.
- 3) We must examine the facts and background information about various choices.
- 4) We must prayerfully reflect to discern the will of God (Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, no. 18).

The United States Catholic Catechism for Adults adds:

- 5) The prudent advice and good example of others support and enlighten our conscience.
- 6) The authoritative teaching of the Church is an essential element.
- 7) The gifts of the Holy Spirit help us develop our conscience.
- 8) Regular examination of conscience is important as well (p. 314).
